

NEGRO EDUCATOR IS BADLY BEATEN

Booker T. Washington Roughly
Used Following Peculiar Episode in Gotham.

New York, March 20.—Booker T. Washington was brought into the West Sixty-fifth street police station last night by a policeman who had chased him up Central Park West after a scuffle in a hallway at 111-2 West Sixty-third street. Albert Ulrich, a carpenter, was arrested on Washington's complaint, charged with assault. Ulrich told the police that he had found Washington peering through a keyhole in an apartment at that address. Washington had two or three scalp wounds and was taken to Flower Hospital for treatment.

This is the story as Ulrich told it to the police: He said that his wife had left her room at about 9 o'clock to give one of her dogs an airing. She found in the hallway a negro who smiled at her as she passed out. He was well dressed and bowed as she passed. He was still there when she came back and again bowed she said.

Mrs. Ulrich presently set out again with another dog, and as she passed the negro again smiled, she thought, and when she came back he addressed her in a familiar manner. When she got inside she told her husband what she had seen. Ulrich put on his coat and passed out of the apartment onto West Sixty-third street. The negro was still in the hall. He talked a few minutes with some friends on the street. After a few minutes delay he returned and then Ulrich told the police he found the negro peering through a keyhole into the apartment of Frank Reetz, a chauffeur, who has rooms on the ground floor.

"What are you doing here?" Ulrich says he asked him.

The negro made no reply, but struck out, barely missing Ulrich. Then he ran past him into West Sixty-third street. A number of Ulrich's friends who were still in the street took up the chase. The negro ran toward Central Park and then started north, with the crowd after him.

He fell once, picked himself up fell again and then a third time. Policeman Kiersey took up the chase, and took Washington to the West Sixty-eighth street station house, Ulrich also going along. Ulrich wanted to make a charge of unlawful entry against Washington, but the charge was not entertained. In Flower Hospital it was said that the patient had a rent over his left ear, but that he was able to leave the hospital soon after he was cured for. Washington is staying at the Manhattan Hotel. He had not returned at midnight. Ulrich was held on a charge of assault.

At the West Sixty-eighth street police station, Washington told Lieut. Quinn who was at the desk that he had been in town since Saturday. He said that he received a telegram to-day from the auditor of the Tuskegee Institute, D. E. Smith, asking him to go to the home of Smith's cousin, also named Smith, at 111-2 West Sixty-third street.

He said this evening he first went to church and got to the Sixty-third street address about 9:15 o'clock. He said that he looked at the names on the bells in the vestibule of 111-2 which is an apartment house, and was unable to find anyone named Smith.

He said that he may have stayed in front of the apartment for a few moments and that he went back several times to look for Smith. Then he said that Ulrich ran out of the apartment house vestibule and came at him with a club.

Mr. Washington said he ran east to Central Park West and then ran north for a block on the park side of the street with Ulrich close behind, beating him. He positively identified Ulrich as the man who assaulted him. Before Mr. Washington was taken to the Flower Hospital Mrs. Lulu Ulrich appeared in the station house and said that Washington was the man who had spoken to her in the hallway of the apartment house. She said that Washington had said "Hello sweetheart," to her and that she had seen him walking up and down in front of the house for some time before this happened.

Dr. Washington was not able to appear in court to-day because of the injuries he received last night, according to the statement of his attorney and the hearing of the charge against Albert Ulrich the carpenter, arrested last night on his complaint of felonious assault, was postponed until tomorrow. Ulrich was held in $1,500 bail.

Hay Stack and Hay Wagon Figure in Accident.

Glasgow, Ky., March 17.—A message from Metcalf county states that Arthur Jesse, the twelve-year-old son of Thomas Jesse, a prominent farmer of Cork, in that county was probably fatally injured by falling of a haystack. The boy had climbed to the top of a large haystack playing and lost his balance, falling to the ground breaking his arm and receiving serious bruises. It is feared he is internally hurt.

Mr. Whitfield Hamper a well-known farmer of Summer Shade, near the Barren and Metcalf county line, was thrown from a wagon load of hay late yesterday afternoon and severely injured. He was sitting on the hay who the team suddenly started and was thrown to the ground, striking a stone and breaking his leg below the knee. He will recover.

Death Stingling the Honey Bee.

Glasgow, Ky.—Some strange disease which promises to annihilate the honey bee of this section has made its appearance and the bees are dying by the wholesale. Unless the disease abates, or some remedy is found home-raised honey will be a thing of the past. Complaints are coming thick and fast from every quarter. Within the past few days J. M. Oaks, who lives near Hubbard, in the edge of Metcalf county, lost 15 hives of bees; W. A. Oaks, 12 hives; M. M. Jeffries, six, and L. Boston about a dozen. In some instances farmers have lost all their hives.

What the trouble is no one can tell. When the first bee dies the entire hive succumbs in a short time. In some sections where bees were plentiful only a few weeks ago there is not a single hive. Wild bees are said to be dying the same as those which are domesticated.

THEIR LIVES WERE STRANGELY ALIKE

Nonagenarians, Spencer County
Folk, Die Almost Simultaneously.

Fishersville Ky., March 17.—Coincidence in their lives which had firmly cemented their friendship for each other persisted even in the deaths yesterday of George William Snider, aged ninety-five years and Mrs. Eliza Nichols, aged ninety-three years, occurring within fifteen minutes, one from the other. They were buried side by side in the cemetery near Snider's this morning. The old people resided only a few doors from each other on the Brink Ridge road.

In 1835 Mr. Snider and Mrs. Nichols both young people, joined the Baptist church while a revival was in progress in a log cabin which stood on the present site of the Bethlehem Baptist church.

Both married in the year 1839 and strangely enough both raised the same number of children.

The odd coincidences had drawn the old people closely together, and when death came to them the story of the similarity of their lives was the occasion for wide remark among their friends.

Deserts Baby on Train.

Richmond, Ky., March 18.—Considerable mystery surrounds the delivery of a white girl baby to J. Jones this afternoon by a small colored girl, who said she had been directed by a white woman to deliver the child to him. Investigation disclosed a note pinned to the child's clothing the note being addressed to the jailer. The investigation also showed that the white woman was at a local hotel and was Mrs. Ella McGuire of Jackson, Ky. She said she was not the mother of the child but she was sitting in the seat on the train with a woman who asked her to hold the baby for a moment. She says the woman went out for a moment and never came back.

CONVENTION TO BE CONSIDERED

Republican State Central Committee to Meet in Louisville on April First.

The Republican State Central Committee will get together in Louisville April 1, in pursuance to a call issued by Chairman Winn. The question of a convention to nominate Republican candidates for State offices will be considered. Two subjects of importance will be discussed. That is a division of opinion as to when Republicans should get into the field. One idea is that a convention should be held before the Democrats hold their primary, and the other is that the Republicans should leave the selection of nominees to an August convention.

In view of the call for the committee meeting political gossipers are talking a little. The names of probable candidates for Governor include those of Edward J. Morrow, Somerset; Judge E. C. O'Rear, of Mt. Sterling; Judge McKenzie Moss, of Bowling Green; Lieutenant W. H. Cox, of Mayville and Leslie Combs, of Lexington. E. T. Franks, of Owensboro, already has announced his candidacy.

Chicken With Four Legs.

Master Alfred Duke, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Duke, of this city, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Carter, of route 1, called at this office Thursday and showed us one of the most remarkably curiosities that we have ever seen, which was a chicken with four legs.

The chicken was hatched Wednesday by a hen which Mrs. Carter owns, and is perfectly formed. It did not appear to have use at present of the additional pair of legs, but was too young to examine closely. We have never seen a chicken of that kind, and it will be quite valuable if it lives, and it now shows all indications of living.

Mrs. Glenn Entertains.

The Woman's Club met Saturday March 18 with Mrs. J. S. Glenn. After the program the ladies were asked by the hostess to repair to the dining room where a great surprise had been prepared for them in honor of dear old St. Patrick. It was a typical St. Patrick's entertainment. The decorations were green and white. Everything that met the eye was suggestive of the day. The blarney stone, the pig, the cigar, the frog, last but not least, the Shamrock with a tiny green and white pipe. The large dining table had for decorations mirrors edged with grass, frogs were on the mirrors and grass. The ladies after being seated were given sheets of paper and pencils to write a verse suggestions of the day. The verses were collected and read to be read. The hostess being too kind to ask any lady to read her own production. Everything was given a toast from the kind hostess down to St. Pat himself.

The ladies felt much honored to have their host Judge Glenn appear just as the following menu was served.

Roast Pig Apple Sauce
Potato Salad Bread and Butter
Tomato Salad Water

Coffee.
Grape Juice
Custard a la St. Patrick.
Cake de Shamrock

The ladies voted many thanks and much praise to their very thoughtful hostess, Mrs. Glenn.

SUCKED BOOZE THROUGH TUBE

Inmates of Somerset Jail Have the Laugh on the Officials.

Somerset, Ky., March 20.—United States Deputy Marshall J. A. Coleman, of this place, arrested Elvina Burton on a charge of selling whiskey without paying government tax, the sales alleged to have been made to the prisoners incarcerated in the Pulaski county jail here. The unearthing of this scheme, which has been puzzling the jailer and officers for several weeks, exposed a most unique plan of procedure.

As no one is allowed in the jail without the presence of the jailer or turnkey the fact that the prisoners were often in an intoxicated condition has puzzled the officials for some time, but none of them would reveal from what source they were procuring the intoxicants.

Finally one of the "trusties" was prevailed upon to "sneak" and he told the plan. This was for man to stand near the outside windows, which are low and which front on a street which runs by the jail, and, while apparently conversing with some prisoner through the iron bars, which protect the windows he would use a long, small gun tube one end stuck into a bottle of whiskey carefully concealed on an inside coat pocket and the other end protruding through the window and into the prisoner's mouth. By this means, no one would ever notice anything unusual as passers by are frequently seen in conversation with prisoners at the windows.

Each prisoner was charged five cents for a short suck or ten cents for a long one a suck meaning one swallow. The bottle holder guarded against being imposed on by any prisoner taking too long a pull at the tube by squeezing the tube near the bottle thus cutting off absolutely any flow from the bottle. After the scheme had been exposed by the officers of the county and government, the long tube, which was used, was turned over to the jailer, the prisoners seeming to enjoy the joke of having put one over on him. This episode will result in the jail being walled off entirely from outside sources and the prisoners cut off from the privileges which they have heretofore enjoyed of conversing with people on the outside of the walls.

DR. AMOS IS NOT GUILTY, SAYS JURY

Judge Warns Those Present Against a Demonstration.

Brilliant Flow of Oratory in Final Argument—A Victim Demanded.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 16.—The jury which heard the case against Dr. D. A. Amos returned a verdict into court tonight at 8:10 o'clock which read: "We the jury find the defendant Dr. Amos not guilty as charged in the indictment."

Dr. Amos shook hands with each of the jurors, and Attorney John Kell thanked them on behalf of the defense.

The reading of the verdict was heard by perhaps a hundred people who gathered hastily from around the business district when the report went out that a verdict had been reached before the verdict was read. Judge Hanberry warned those present that there must be no expression, either of approval or disapproval, and there was no demonstration.

The decision as to whether or not Dr. David A. Amos, the Caldwell county physician, who is alleged to have led the night rider raid on Hopkinsville on the night of Dec. 6, 1907, shall wear prison stripes for a term of from one to fifteen years or be restored to his liberty now rests with the jury. For ten days this famous case has occupied the entire time of the circuit court here and during that time scores of witnesses have testified, charges, counter-charges and denials have been made before the jury. The case has been a source of oratory such as was never heard in a criminal prosecution, and through it all at every session of the court the court room has been packed with people from the town and long distances around and widespread interest has followed the case from day to day. But now the last word has been said, and the question of Dr. Amos' guilt or innocence is with the jury.

The argument closed this afternoon with the speech of Commonwealth's Attorney Denny P. Smith, and preceding him, in the order named, were E. H. Bush, for the defense; S. Y. Trimble, for the prosecution, and Judge W. T. Fowler, for the defense, and last night Judge J. C. Sims, of Bowling Green, for the prosecution. The first three speeches were delivered yesterday afternoon, making eight in all. Judge Sims' speech last night was an able effort. He discussed more fully than any of his colleagues the instructions of the court and declared that even though the jury believed the alibi theory and acquitted Dr. Amos was not here on the night of the raid, yet if he had been proven guilty of entering into the conspiracy to raid the town, he was just as guilty as if he had actually taken part. He declared that the Commonwealth had proved this an alibi and that the defense had presented was Dr. Amos' denial. He ridiculed the alibi and said the word was spelled "wrong" and that it should be "a lie-by." Judge Fowler's speech was masterly from his side of the case. He replied to Mr. Sims and declared the conspiracy had only been proven by the unsupported testimony of perjurers, referring to the confessed night riders. He argued the evidence at considerable length and in response to the charges of the prosecution, declared that an alibi was the strongest sort of defense and the only refuge of a man unjustly accused of a crime. His close was a beautiful tribute to the country doctor as a neighborhood benefactor and the confident statement that he expected an acquittal of his client.

NEED A VICTIM.

Judge C. H. Hush closed the argument for the defense in a speech of over two hours this afternoon. He covered the case fully and constructed the evidence entirely in the interest of Dr. Amos. He declared that a victim was demanded by the prosecution for the raid on Hopkinsville and that Dr. Amos had been selected, but he expressed confidence that the jury would not convict him on what he termed "perjured testimony." He argued instruction No. 5, which provides that Dr. Amos can not be convicted on the unsupported testimony of accomplices, and declared that the state had failed to properly support the stories of the confessed night riders. He bitterly denounced the state's chief witness as being unworthy of belief. Commonwealth's Attorney Smith closed the argument with a summing up of the prosecution's side. Replying to the charge of the defense that a victim was demanded, he declared that such was not the case, but the demand was made that the law be vindicated. He called on the jury to brush away non-essential details of the evidence that had been argued to them and to take the salient features and decide the case on those. He also declared that Dr. Amos could be guilty without even being in Hopkinsville, and, attacking the alibi, he, without reviling any on or using harsh language, showed how easily they might have been mistaken as to exact times.

Mr. Smith did not conclude until after 5 o'clock, and Judge Hanberry immediately adjourned court, telling jury they could begin their deliberations at once and that the court was open to them day or night. They desired to return a verdict or wanted further information in any way. Whether or not any more of the cases will be tried at this term of court will not be determined until court convenes to-morrow morning.

There are still two indictments against Dr. Amos one charging him with banding and confederating together with others to go forth, and the other charging that in pursuance of this conspiracy they did go forth and burn the warehouse of Tandy & Fairleigh in this city. The other defendants, Guy Dunning, J. B. Malone, John Robinson, Newton Nichols and Irving Glass, are indicted on the same three charges as Dr. Amos, leaving seventeen cases on the docket after this one is disposed of. Whether either side will make the effort to get into another trial at this term is not known.

CHARLEY DO YOU REMEMBER?

Markham Brothers Meet in Memphis.

Identification Made Complete by Simple Question of One Answered by the Other.

Paducah, Ky., March 17.—"Charley, do you remember the time I took you on horseback to the dentist and you had a tooth pulled?" asked John Markham, an aged bricklayer of Hopkinsville, Ky., of Charles Markham, the new president of the Illinois Central, when they met in Memphis, Tenn., tonight for the first time since boyhood. The railroad president replied, "Yes, I do. And you are my long-lost brother."

With this query and answer the brothers clasped each other and tears flowed freely. Those who witnessed the scene were a few Illinois Central officials, and the reuniting was so affecting that they turned away.

Several weeks ago the two brothers talked over the long distance telephone, and although the remembrance of early childhood in Clarksville, Tenn., were not fully satisfied that he had found his brother, and the Memphis meeting was arranged. They did not know each other by sight as John Markham had not seen his baby brother since he departed from home to join the army in the civil war. Time had changed their general appearance, but a short conversation of three old home near Clarksville and the trip to the dentist soon established the brotherly tie.

John Markham did not know anything about the whereabouts of his brother until he was recently elected to the presidency of the Illinois Central. He at once got in touch with him, and the Memphis meeting was arranged.

An agreement had been made to keep the meeting quiet, but it was given publicity here today by a party who had conversed with an Illinois Central official who witnessed it.

Tobacco Trust Earnings.

The American Tobacco Company did a pretty good business in 1910. Figures given out from New York that its earnings for that year amounted to $35,045,052. This is an increase of $5,000,000 over its earnings for the year 1909. It has distributed more than $25,000,000 in dividends against something in excess of $20,000,000 in 1909.

Occasionally there is heard a plaint from the Bunley district that "there is no money in tobacco nowadays," there seems to be plenty of money in it for the trust. Wherefore one might think that the trust could afford to "loosen up" a bit with the hard-worked tobacco growers of the Bunley belt. But in the matter of being soulless trusts are like corporations, only a whole lot more so, and a representative of the tribe of Duke is on record as saying that "the fool farmers will stick together." And past history and current events would indicate that he was not very far wrong.

The tenant farmer, as he pulls the boll over a gray mule, or yanks the belligerent tobacco worm from the shady side of a leaf of long green, has mighty little conception of the vast profits that are being stacked up every year by the American Tobacco Company. Millions are beyond his ken, but he knows that it takes hard licks and a heap of them to make the weed grow; that the job is not getting any easier as the years leave the marks on him and that cornmeal is pretty high and bacon is out of sight. Meanwhile the landowner is taking pool or cut-out or reduced acreage and when it comes down to brass tacks and contracts are to be signed he looks George do it.

There is nothing altruistic in this story of tobacco trust earnings. There is nothing in it that looks comfortable for the farmer. It is plain that the trust can pay good prices for tobacco if it wants to. Also it is clear that the trust is not going to pay any more than it can help. That has been demonstrated in the Barley district. All of which brings the farmer back to that "stick together" proposition and puts the question up to him as to whether he wants to work for his board and clothes.—Courier-Journal

Terrible Train of Troubles.

Lake Charles, La.—Mrs. E. Fournier, 616 Kirby street says: "The month before I took Cardui I could hardly walk. I had backache, headache, pain in my legs, chills, fainting spells, sick stomach dragging feelings and no patience or courage. Since taking Cardui, I have no more pain, and feel good all the time." Take Cardui and get the benefit of the peculiar herb ingredients, which have been found so efficient for womanly ills. Other people have done the testing. You profit by their experience. Try it.

Safeguarding the Lives of Underground Workers.

Since Uncle Sam has taken upon himself the task of educating miners to the necessity of new methods of protection in underground shafts there has been a great increase in the popular attention given to this subject. The statement was made in a recent issue of the Scientific American that in the past twenty years coal mines in this country have made 11,000 widows and 30,000 orphans, and have exacted a toll of 30,000 lives. In five years more than a regiment has been killed outright in the Pennsylvania coal mines alone.

"It seems time," says this paper, "for the government to make strenuous efforts to overcome the ignorance which causes most of the fatalities."

Accordingly, the work of the new Bureau of Mines in its mine rescue campaign is a work of education. On free school has already been opened to miners and others are planned for establishment in the near future.

Of more than usual interest are the experiments and operations carried on by the Bureau of Mines. Under the direction of experts mine explosions are caused and tests made to determine the comparative power of the explosive materials used in mines. The miners are invited to watch the effect of these explosions, which are under a control. Galleries are used for damp test, which are made under conditions identical with those met in underground shafts.

Miners are taught in mine shafts how to act in cases of emergency. Difficult passages, with openings such as those found in a coal mine, make the conditions similar to actual life. Dummies representing asphyxiated miners are carried out by the men of the rescue corps while the miners look on.

Traveling schools, or mine rescue cars are engaged in spreading this knowledge. Six of these cars will soon be in the field, each with its separate territory to cover. Among the exhibits on these cars will be telephone sets to aid in the work of mine rescue.

Not long ago John Mitchell, who for nearly ten years was president of the United Mine Workers, was quoted as saying:

"Mine casualties always suggest means by which lives thus lost might have been saved. If coal mines were equipped with telephones through out their workings, it would be possible for man entombed to let those on the outside know the location of the place in which they were gathered, or at least let them know what was their condition. And thus the work of rescue would be greatly aided."

Since the disaster of less than two years ago in the Cherry coal mine it has been generally recognized that a telephone system is essential for the proper safeguarding of the lives of the miners. The development of telephone systems in mines has nearly all occurred since that calamity.

Telephone manufacturers recognized that the ordinary telephones which serve so well the purposes for which they were designed would not do for a telephone set that will be proof against fumes, gases, moisture and other rigorous conditions met with have recently been developed telephone sets that fulfill these rigid specifications.

Some of these ironclad telephone sets will stand up against the most rigid conditions to be found in mines of every description. Photograph recently was taken of a Pennsylvania miner using one of the Western Electric Company's mine telephones. Installed 12,000 feet from the surface. The advantages of a system of these metal clad instruments are very apparent.

The use of telephone and signal system forms a considerable portion of the instruction that is given to miners in a course on protection in underground shaft. In a case of emergency there are two methods of communication between the interior of a mine and the outside world. One is to run, jump, stumble and walk through darkened corridors. The other is to use the telephone.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce Hon W. S. Dean a candidate for re-election to the office of Representative in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Republican party.

What has become of the canning factory which Hartford was to have established.

No one doubts the necessity for good roads. The only halt seems to be when and how to begin, and some people expect them to be made without the expenditure of money.

Notwithstanding the fact that Ohio County has had two severe crop failures in succession, if the efforts now being put forth by the farmers are rewarded with success this year we may expect a return to normal conditions this fall, and there is no reason why business should not show up well in the near future.

The Republicans of Allen County in mass convention one day this week passed strong resolutions endorsing Judge E. C. O'Rear for Governor. Allen County Republicans know how to do the right thing at the right time. It is only a question of time when most of them will follow the lead of Ohio County in this respect.

The Hartford Herald says that none of the readers of this paper are surprised at anything it says or does. The Herald may be right about this, but we have never yet surprised them with the advice to vote for the nominee of the party, no matter who he may be, or what his party platform or whether he may be on any platform or not.

The Hartford Herald claims that there is a curiosity to know how this paper is going to get in line for the support of William Taft, for President next year. Well, we will climb that hill when we get to it. In the meantime there are just a few who are curious to know how the Hartford Herald is going to support the next State Democratic platform, unless there is a platform.

Hartford College is about to close one of the most successful years in its history. It has a fine corps of teachers, all of whom have worked together in harmony for the good of the entire school during the scholastic year, which will soon come to a close. The outside patronage has been extremely good and has been about up to what the capacity of the building and the number of teachers could accommodate. A plan is on foot looking to the enlargement of the building and putting in steam heat which will add greatly to the equipment of the school. We hope by next year to make a still better showing in old Hartford College.

The trial and acquittal of Dr. Amos, at Hopkinsville, last week for complicity in the night rider raid on that town in December, 1907, doubtless marks the end of the night rider prosecutions. We do not know whether Amos was guilty or not, but we are sure that the prosecution against him was handicapped somewhat by its confession testimony. Milton Oliver, the man whom the state has spent several thousand dollars guarding in order to preserve his testimony and incidentally his life, for several years, made a very poor showing as a witness, as it was shown that he has not only confessed that he had taken part in the raid as a night rider, but he had also confessed that he had when he made that confession. Besides the fact that the state administration had gone to such extremes to punish these men, created a sort of sympathy for them, in view of the fact that no such extremes had been resorted to punish other criminals equally as notorious.

REPUBLICAN PROSPECTS.

There is no doubt but what the Republican party has made great gains in Kentucky in the past few years through immigration. The census shows that the increase in population in the state is almost entirely in the Republican sections and that the decrease whenever it occurs is wholly in the Democratic counties. Kentucky Republicans have had nothing to divide them into factions between insurgency and so-called "Stand Paters," as has been the case in many other states. In the Congressional elections last fall we showed practically a united front and made much better showing than the party did in any other state in the union. We lost only one of our representatives in Congress and that by a very small margin. It is true that in some counties and in some Congressional districts we have local party factionalism but this will largely, if not entirely disappear when a state campaign is on, provided judicious nominations are made. A number of excellent gentlemen are being considered in connection with the head of the State ticket. Hon E. T. Franks and Lieut. Governor, W. H. Cox, have announced their candidacy while it is believed among several others mentioned, that Judge E. C. O'Rear will also become a candidate. Among those mentioned are Hon. Ed. Morrow, of Somerset, J. C. Speight, of Mayfield and Judge James Breathitt, of Hopkinsville. While all of these men are true and loyal Republicans, and well qualified for the position, yet we believe that in view of past experiences we should carefully weigh every element of strength and nominate a man who can carry the masses of the common people with him. No one heretofore mentioned so completely fills this roll as does Judge O'Rear. He is a self-made man, having come from lowly conditions and it has been proven upon many occasions that his every heart throb is in sympathy with the down trodden, the poor and lowly, who cannot help themselves and who at this time above all times in our State will look to some one to support for the head of our state government, who will have a sympathetic and friendly ear for the people. It is useless to disguise the fact that there is a determination which has never existed before, to such an extent, among the farming classes of the State to ignore party lines and support someone for Governor, who during the years of struggle which they have had with the great tobacco trust and other combines, has shown that he is upon the right side. Not that they would believe for one moment that their candidate would make use of this high office for an improper purpose, but they believe that their fight will be less difficult to maintain, and victory easier to accomplish with a friend at the helm of State, than it has been with an enemy in that position. If the leaders of the Republican party in Kentucky will consult with the rank and file, the one gallows fellows in the country who do at least seventenths of the voting, they will find that Judge O'Rear is 10,000 votes stronger than any other man who has been mentioned in that connection, and it will prove a most costly blunder if he is refused the nomination.

It Proved Costly to the Farmer.

The entire incorrectness of the assertion of the supporters of Free-Trade "reciprocity" that the values of American farm products would be in no way affected is completely demonstrated by two commercial facts.

1. The price of wheat in the principal American market broke from 5 to 12 cents a bushel directly following the passage by the House of the Canadian agreement bill.
2. The price of wheat advanced 2-1/4 cents a bushel in Minneapolis on the 4th of March on advice from Washington of the refusal of the Senate to pass the Canadian agreement bill.

Assuming that prior to the passage of the bill in the House there were 100,000,000 bushels remaining in the granaries, the loss to do the farmers owing that wheat was from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000. The more millions of the Free-Trade dicker was responsible for that damage to the farmers. When that money disappeared wheat jumped up 2-1/4 cents forthwith. Full recovery of the former price is not to be expected. There is still the menace of what Congress may do in the extra session called for April 4 for the express purpose of carrying into effect the plan to permanently lower the price of wheat. Is it any wonder that the farmers of the United States vigorously oppose the Canadian Free-Trade scheme.

Notice to Sheep Shippers.

Before moving any sheep within the State of Kentucky, or offering sheep for transportation to any railroad company, steamboat, ferry or other common carrier for transportation to points either within or outside the State, they shall be inspected by the County Live Stock Inspector, found free from "Scab" and exposure thereto, and are accompanied by regular certificates of inspection. These certificates shall accompany shipments to their destination and be attached to way bills or other identifying papers issued by the transporting company.

L. D. BENNETT,

Live Stock Inspector for Ohio County.

Reciprocity Echoes.

May the Good Lord deliver us from any more "Reciprocity," will be incorporated in all our prayers, after the president tries his Canadian one on the people.—Plaza N. D. Pioneer.

Many of our farmers are much stirred up over the proposed reciprocity with Canada. They don't want their wheat put on a market with Canadian wheat. This is about all the advantage the N. D. farmer gets out of the Tariff, and if they take that away, they will get the N. D. farmer going on record for Free-Trade in its entirety. Our members of Congress are all opposed to the plan and they will put it up to the President and Congress in a way that is likely to knock it out.—Plaza N. D. Pioneer.

The fuss over high prices will get its quietus when the workman finds cheap foreign goods invading the American market, and knocking him out of his job. No workman remains an admirer of cheapness very long after he finds out that a thing is dear to the man who wants to buy when he hasn't the money to buy it with, and lacks a job which would enable him to get the necessary cash.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Well, the insurgents of the West know a lot more about the beauties of Protection than they did before Canadian reciprocity was closed.—Binghamton Republican.

It seems that the people of this country are fated to go back on themselves once in awhile. They become prosperous and happy under the policies of the Republican party, and becoming jealous of the surpassing prosperity of certain persons and certain concerns, they prospering themselves beyond any time in previous years, vote a party into power always proven disastrous to every human interest. If such voters could only be made to bear alone the burdens of the adversity they thus bring about then the innocent people could smile and bear the situation.—Greenville Ohio Courier.

The Republican party has for fifty years stood committed to the policy of Protection to the American farmer and the American wage-earner—and no man can in just a fortnight commit it to a policy which would turn the party inside out, make it right about face, and meet itself coming back.—Albany Mo. Capital.

Politics makes strange bed fellows. Here is Senator Cummins of Iowa, insurgent of insurgents, contending for revision of the Tariff by schedule and declaring that this is the issue of the future between the insurgents and Regulars. Yet President Taft has declared for schedule revision. And again Senator Cummins is a leader in the new "Progressive league" organized largely to make war on Mr. Taft.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

County Union F. E. and C. U. of A.

A Home Treatment for Lung Trouble.

It is a recognized fact that fresh air, plenty of nourishing food and a correct constitutional treatment have done more to cure lung trouble and that weakened, run-down feeling, than all other forms of treatment combined.

A constitutional treatment to meet all the necessary requirements, must not only kill and remove all the disease germs from the system, but at the same time it must increase the appetite, aid in digestion and assimilation of food, renovate and build up the nervous system and all parts of the body.

Germinol Remedy meets all these requirements and is producing some marvelous results.

If you have consumption in any form blood disease; if you are troubled with ulcers or chronic sores, coughs, pains in the chest; if you have weak lungs and feel generally run down and weak, write the Ohio Medical Co., Box 95, Columbus, Ohio, and they will send you a full sized bottle of this medicine absolutely free, as a trial, if you will mention the name of The Hartford Republican.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

(A Special Department for Our Housekeepers. Contributions Accepted.)

TO LAUNDRY HANDKERCHIEFS.

Delicate articles, like handkerchiefs, embroidered etc., may be beautifully laundered by the following method: Prepare a thin starch by wetting in a teaspoonful of corn starch in a little cold water and boil from thirty minutes to an hour. When cold strain the starch and wash the starched articles in a moderately hot suds. Articles laundered in this way have the sheer look and the crispness of new goods.—Ladies World.

HANDY CAN OPENER.

A handy little can-opener that is light compact and easy to work is that devised by a California man. One piece of metal, resembling a heavy, very strong wire, is bent upon itself. Where the metal runs parallel the handle is formed. One end terminates in a point, that is designated to penetrate the can and has a series of recesses along, spaced on either side. Near the point it is bent at a double right angle. The other end is curved over in a bow, which gives it resilience, and also terminates in a point, which is the cutting blade. This end can be fitted into any one of the recesses of the other, according to the diameter of the can to be opened. The lateral point is thrust into the top of a can the instrument brought down till the cutting blade takes hold. Then with the bend in the lateral section acting as a pivot, the blade is made to inscribe a circle, cutting the tin as it goes.

HINTS FROM THE CHEF.

To prevent cooking odors.—Fill a tin cup with vinegar and place it on the back of the stove. This will prevent the spread of cooking odors throughout the house.

Before preparing vegetables or fruits that stain the fingers, a very good plan is to previously rub the thumb and forefinger with a little grease, which will prevent the stains that are unsightly and difficult to remove.

When making fruit pies, damp the edge with milk instead of water. It holds better, and the juice is not liable to hold over.

POTATO PANCAKE.

Pare and wash six raw potatoes separate the whites and yolks of two eggs and whip the whites to a stiff froth. Grate the potatoes into a bowl and quickly add to them the beaten yolks a half teaspoonful of salt and a tablespoonful of fine sifted bread crumbs. Beat them gradually into the whites and saute by spoonfuls in smoking fat.

GIBLET AND VEGETABLE STEW.

When cleaning a chicken split and wash the heart, also the liver and fleshy ends pared from the gizzard. Put all on in a plate of cold water, heat and simmer for half an hour then set aside. When ready to use cut the meat into thin slices. Brown two tablespoonfuls of flour and when brown stir in the liquid in which the giblets have been cooked. Season well with salt and pepper. Add the cut meat and a cupful of diced cooked vegetables—carrots and turnips—and a little raw celery are best. Simmer slowly for thirty minutes and serve, garnished with crostons.

STEAMED FISH.

Place tail of fish in its mouth and secure it. Lay on a plate, pour over it a half pint of vinegar, season with pepper and salt. Let stand for an hour in the refrigerator; pour off the vinegar and put in a steam over boiling water. Steam twenty minutes or longer if the fish is very large. When done the meat easily parts from the bone. Drain well, and serve on a napkin garnished with curled parsley. Serve drawn butter in a boat.

CREAMED OYSTERS.

Let two quarts of milk come to a boil. Take three pints of oysters drain off the liquor put in a deep bowl and chop fine. Stir two small tablespoonfuls of flour in four of melted butter. Put the oysters in the boiling milk, stir in the butter and flour, season with pepper and salt, let boil up once and serve.

A FEW HINTS.

Vegetables will take longer to cook, but will be much better, and of better color, if boiled uncovered. It is a good scheme to sew a safety pin on the waist at the waist line, two hooks on the binding of the skirt hook the two together, and they will hold firmly. If chicken is roasted or poached with the breast down, instead of up, it will be more juicy and tender.

that I had a neuralgia pain in my arm for five years, and I used your Liniment for one week and was completely cured. I recommend your Liniment very highly."—Mrs. J. McGraw, 1216 Mandeville St., New Orleans, La.

Cured Quinsy Sore Throat

Mr. HENRY L. CAULK, of 1242 Wilson St., Wilmington, Del., writes:—"I bought a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for the quinsy sore throat and it cured me. I shall always keep a bottle in the house."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contains Mercury.

as mercury surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Helpful Hints to Husbands.

Never fail to remind your wife on her birthday how young and slender she looked the first time you saw her. Loving memories are honey to women's hungry hearts.

When your wife is telling a story to guests always be sure to interrupt her and finish it yourself. A true woman always appreciates a husband's aid.

Never go to church with your wife on Sunday morning. The oftener you go the oftener she will expect you to, and you might get the habit.

If your wife says she has a headache, just laugh at her. There is nothing like laughter to lighten one's burdens.

Always believe everything your wife tells you, and by and by she may begin to believe some of the things you tell her.

Never explain where you have been when you have been out late at night. If you do it once you'll have to do it always.

Don't ever take the trouble to be courteous, to your wife's woman friends. The ruder you are to them the more they will sympathize with her, and all women love sympathy.

Never forget to remove your collar as soon as you get home. An untidy husband excellently chastens an impatient wife.—Good Housekeeping.

McHENRY.

March 13.—McHenry has been on the boom for the past few weeks.

March has been a pretty month so far and the people are wide awake to their business. Farmers are getting busy preparing for their crops, such as plowing, fencing clearing and getting things together for another crop. Most everyone thinks we will have a fine season this year for grain and plants of all kinds.

What in this community is reasonable good and we hope for a fine out crop. Merchants are also getting busy buying an assortment of different goods as the farmers and gardeners may need.

Mining is dull here at present. The mines run six hours a day and they are talking of shutting New Reader down and putting the Reader men here, giving McHenry what orders they have also putting their nine cars and what machinery may be needed for operating the mines. If these plans are carried out we will have ever any work.

Crude Thoughts from Another Editor's Pen.

What a happy world this would be if the innocence of childhood's ten der years could be carried through age. So, while we are training them in the way they should walk, let us watch our own footsteps, and not cut off their harmless mirth to suit our tastes, that have grown sombre with age and care.

Be as careful to keep the weeds out of the minds of your children as you are to keep them out of your garden. But remember, something will grow there. If you don't plant them with good grain, the weeds will take root in spite of you. Keep a library of good clean books, and by all means keep your home paper before them.

To make a boy into a pure man, a mother must do more than play. She must live with him in the sense of comrade and closest friend. She must stand by him in time of temptation as the pilot sticks to the wheel when rapids are around. She must never desert him and go off to superintend outside duties any more than the engineer deserts his post and goes into a baggage car to read up engineering when the train is pounding across the country at the rate of forty miles an hour.

Whoever takes a little child into his love may have a very roomy heart but that child will fill it out. The children keep us from growing old and cold; they cling to our garments with their little hands and impede our progress to perfection. They win us back with their pleading eyes from cruel care; they never encourage us at all. A poor old couple with no one to love them is a most pitiful picture; but a hovel with a small place to fill a broken pane here and there is robbed of its desolateness.

A taste for music, poetry, pictures, etc., tends to destroy the attraction for the vulgar. A home of beauty, of taste and refinement always tends to elevate and ennoble the mind and cultivate a spirit of contentment. Beauty fills the world as well as heaven if we have eyes to see it. It is open to all. The rose is as fragrant, the lily as white, and the hyacinth as delicately blue when cultivated by the poor as by the jeweled fingers of the rich.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so?

The general health of women is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C. O. D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them exactly as represented. ## Four-Fifths of Your Store Patrons Were Won by Advertising---And Four-Fifths of These Would Be Lost if You Stopped Advertising!

Newspaper advertising is a part of all worth-while store-service—a part of it which patrons particularly value. For it keeps them in touch with your store-events, your sales, the arrival of new stocks, the showing of novelties, the buying opportunities which your store must create for its friends.

The advertising becomes the link between the store and its clientele. They expect the store's advertising to SERVE THEM—"not now and then," not partially; but ALWAYS, and fully! To curtail the advertising—in volume or frequency—would make the same impression on them as though you moved into smaller quarters and cut down your force of clerks and workers. To INCREASE your advertising to make it more complete as "store News," as a "market letter," as a bulletin of bargains—will have the effect of enlisting a lot of new store-friends every day, and of winning anew all of the old ones!

The Harem Skirt.

The harem skirt for women is the latest. It is a hybrid in appearance, being pants-like from knee down, and from the picture makes the wearer look a little top-heavy. Like the old-fashioned corset, it is the fact that the bible says "The woman shall not wear that which pertaineth unto a man," we do not see how the harem can become popular.
